New Flag For Lions

A United States flag flown over the Capitol in Washington, D.C. was presented Thursday night, Dec. 3 to Appomattox Lions by Representative Watkins M. Abbitt. Accepting the gift were (from left) Lt. L. E. Thomas, president; Judge G. F. Abbitt, Jr. and S. B. Waddell.

Group Offers Speakers On Parenthood

Planned Parenthood, Greater Lynchburg Area Chapter, Inc. held its annual meeting December 1, 1970, at the Lynchburg General Hospital. At this meeting the members were given a report on the chapter's progress for 1970 and its goals for 1971. One of the main goals will be concentrated work in the counties surrounding Lynchburg. There will be a special training seminar for the Appomattox area opened to welfare workers, public health nurses, clergymen, doctors, educators, law officers, and interested citizens. This seminar will have expert speakers in areas of family planning, illegitimate births, adoption, abortion, and family counseling. A Speaker's Bureau has been formed and will offer programs to any interested club or organization in the Appomattox area. Officers for 1971 were elected at this meeting. They are:

Mrs. Jesse Davidson, Pres.; John Farnandez, vice-pres.; Mrs. George Dewire, Sec.; and Marshall Jones, Treasurer.

Any questions on programs or personal counseling can be answered by Mrs. Ann Riner, Director, 846-6093.

PINE VIEW HOME HAS VISITORS

Rev. C. A. Elliott and young people of Jordan Baptist Church held a Wednesday night service before Thanksgiving at Pine View Rest Home, Spout Spring.

Guests and staff of the home, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Tyler, were also treated to baskets of fruit. Mrs. Tyler says that all such acts of kindness are deeply appreciated.

Several groups of young people and adults have already contacted the home with Christmas ideas, caroling singing, visits, etc. Mrs. Tyler says that the guests always look forward to the holidays and that all groups are welcome.

Drinkard-Ford Collecting For Firemen's Gift

It's Christmas gift time again – and while you're making out that shopping list, please include the firemen of Appomattox who help out all year long to fight fires and prevent property damage.

As in years past, Paul Drinkard of Appomattox is out collecting funds to provide the volunteer firemen of Appomattox with a Christmas bonus. This year he has a helper, James R. Ford, the town policeman.

Four Acre Fire

Approximately four acres of timber and brushland burned Friday afternoon on Road 722 off Route 60 near Bent Creek on property owned by Mrs. Marvin Franklin and Sammy Gunter.

Chief fire warden David M. Smith and county forester Warren Taylor expressed appreciation to the Gladstone Fire Dept., Appomattox firemen and Va. Forestry personnel from Buckingham County for assisting at the fire. They said that this is the first forest fire of the fall to burn for any appreciable amount of acreage. Included in livestock and property saved by the firefighters were two large hogs in a wooden pen in the path of the blaze.

Flue-Cured Allotments Eligible Five-Year Leases

Taxable Values Reach $20, 312, 111

(Con't. from Page I)

Owners and operators of farms with flue-cured tobacco allotments may now lease and transfer some or all of their farm acreage allotment and marketing quotas for up to five years, according to J. P. Alvis, Jr. Chairman of the Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

Previously, flue-cured tobacco allotments could be leased and transferred only on an annual basis.

Mr. Alvis said there are some new provisions this year for lease agreements extending for more than one crop year. They include:

1. Consent of lienholder. The lienholder must consent in writing to a transfer of allotment and quota from a farm subject to mortage or other lien.

2. Recomputation of allotments and quotas. Each year a transfer is in effect the acreage allotment and marketing quota shall be recomputed, and appropriate adjustments will be made in the amount of the transfer. The ASC Committee Chairman explained that the farm marketing quota, pound for pound, is the basis for lease and transfer of flue-cured tobacco allotments, and all quotas are recomputed each year.

Most provisions on lease and transfer of flue-cured tobacco allotments are the same as in previous years when only annual leases could be made.

Lease agreements must still be approved by the County ASC Committee before becoming effective.

The deadline for filing leases for 1971 allotments is April 1, 1971.

The Chairman also reminded farmers that transfer must be within the county and must be between farms with established allotments for flue-cured tobacco. New farm allotments and quotas may not be transferred. Another provision limits transfers so that a receiving farm may not obtain an allotment larger than 50 percent of the cropland acres on the farm.

"These are only highlights of the lease and transfer provisions," Mr. Alvis said. "Farmers interested in learning full details should check their County ASCS Office."

Astronomer Is Recent Author

(From The Arlington Forester, Nov., 1970, official publication of the Arlington Forest Citizens Assoc., Arlington, Virginia. Mrs. Irving Lindenblad is the former Ann Bolling Terry of Pamplin, Va. She was graduated from Longwood College in 1950.)

FOREST ASTRONOMER IS AUTHOR –Arlington Forester Irving W. Lindenblad of Arlington Boulevard, an astronomer at the U. S. Naval Observatory, is the author of an article in the September issue of the Astronomical Journal.

Mr. Lindenblad's article describes five years of research, using the 26 – inch refracting telescope at the Naval Observatory, on the dwarf companion of the star, Sirius. This "degenerate" star has a density of more than a ton per cubic inch and represents the final stages of stellar evolution. Mr. Lindenblad's work produced the most precise information thus far available about this star.

Mr. Lindenblad is a graduate of Wesleyan University (B.A.), Colgate Rochester Divinity School (B.D.) and George Washington University (M.A.) He also studied theology under Prof. Paul Tillich at Harvard Divinity School and is an ordained American Baptist minister, having served as pastor of Baptist churches in Harrisburg, Pa., and North Haven, Conn. He purposely pursued this unusual combination of studies in religion and science, he says, "in order to better understand the interaction between these two disciplines."

He and his wife, Ann, have two sons, Werner, 9, and Nils, 7, both in Barrett Elementary School, Mrs. Lindenblad comes from Appomattox, Va., and her husband is from Princeton, N.J. They have lived in the Forest seven years.

Football Players Honored

Lions of Appomattox honored Appomattox County High School Raiders Thursday night, Dec. 3 with a banquet – then had a trophy presentation for outstanding players. Walton Gafford (far left) was named "Most Improved Player" with a trophy from the high school. Charles Phillips, next, won the "Sportsmanship" award from Appomattox Jaycees. Next is Sports editor Calvin Porter of the Lynchburg News, featured speaker, standing next to Steve Lawson who was named "Outstanding Lineman" with trophy from the Times-Virginian and Plicky Williams, "Outstanding Back", an award from the Lions. Club president is Lt. L. E. Thomas (far right). Raiders' coach is Jerry Robinson.

Six ACHS Raiders Win District Honors

The Seminole District coaching staff, working under a new system for selecting the All-District football team, voted at least one player from each of the eight district schools to the 1970 squad.

Dennis Tweedy, Altavista tailback, was named "back of the year" while Gretna tackle Raleigh James was voted "lineman of the year."

Also nominated for "lineman of the year", in order of points, were Steve Lawson, of Appomattox, Mike Davidson, of Nelson; Mike Kidd of Altavista, "Bo" Frazier of Rustburg; Roger Waller of William Campbell and Paul Bowen of Brookville.

Center Steve Lawson of Appomattox was named to the All-District offensive team with "Plicky" Williams of Appomattox, backs, making the defensive unit, All-District.

"Plicky" Williams was also a nominee for "back of the year."

Steve Lawson was also an honorable mention defensive tackle.

Making the second team backfield was Welton Gafford of Appomattox.

The second team line consists of end Vernon Barnard, Altavista, Roger Waller of William Campbell; tackles Clayton Cyrus of Appomattox and Early Pribble of Brookville and center Robert Mitchell of Altavista.

Included in the honorable mention team on offensive was Mike McCormick, back, of Appomattox.

The second team included tackle Billy Guthrie of Appomattox.

A new system was used in selecting the players this year.

Each coach selected two members from his team plus one for every win or tie in a Seminole District contest. The coaches named the positions the gridders were candidates for, offense, defense, or both.

The coaches and teams then rated each name in each position on the basis of best –number one, second best –number two, etc. All players in each position were rated except players from the team voting.

These ratings were then tabulated – 10 points for each first place, nine points for second, eight points for third, etc.

All of the coaches were eligible for the top spot.

Altavista, Brookville, Gretna, and Appomattox each placed three players on the All-District club.

Nelson, Rustburg, and Staunton River, which finished in the fifth, sixth, and seventh spots respectively, put two players each on the select squad.

Coach William Campbell, which ended up in last place in the conference, had one player selected for the team.
